Happy New Year - To all of our families celebrating the Year of the Rat - I hope you have a great New Year's Weekend and your year is filled with health and happiness.

Winner of the Logo Contest will be Announced on Monday.

As I mentioned in my last email, we recently changed our motto to *Be Kind, Be Curious, Be Courageous.*Over 100 students submitted ideas for a logo to go with our motto. The entire school voted and we have a winner. The winner will be announced at a student assembly on Monday, January 27th (yes, we are keeping you in suspense until then:). We will kick off a week of Kindness with the assembly and then focus on Kindness activities for the week. Mrs. Swinning will be rolling out Kindness Bingo - KindnessBingokindnessnation.pdf, students will be reading and responding to books on kindness, videos will be shown at lunch and students will have a chance to track times they are kind and times others have been kind to them on our kindness bulletin board. The PTO has generously agreed to purchase new Martha Jones T-Shirts for all students with the new motto and logo on them, so please keep an eye out for ordering details (size, grade level, etc) for your child.

Birthday Books - Does your child have a spring or summer birthday? It's not too late to participate in the Martha Jones Library Birthday Books program. The cost to participate is $15 per student. Your child may choose a brand new book for the library during his or her birthday month. A commemorative bookplate will be placed inside the front cover of the book with your child's name, age and birthday month (specific birthday is not included for privacy purposes). He/she will enjoy being the first to borrow the Birthday Book and students for years to come will enjoy seeing their friend's name inside the book. We appreciate your interest and support in the Birthday Book Program! It is a great way to ensure our library has a wonderful and varied collection. If you have any questions, please contact Amy Amatangelo at Mini Courses - Mini Course's will start this coming Monday, January 27th and run through to April 3rd (reserving the week of April 6 as a Make-Up Week). Thank you for supporting these fun and engaging courses for students. Please be sure to send your child's teacher a note letting him/her know which days your child will be attending a mini course. Mini-course teachers will escort students to the area outside of the front of the school at the end of mini-courses. We ask that parents wait outside for their children. Thank you.

Classroom Happenings

News from 5B (Mr. Bartlett)

Mr Bartlett's class are currently studying space science and grappling with the guiding question; why is the sun so bright in the sky?

Most students start by suggesting that the sun is bright because it is really big and really hot. We address this misconception by learning about the Sun compared to other stars. Is the sun big? Yes, it's huge. A million Earths would fit inside the sun! Is it really hot? Yes, incredibly hot. It's temperature is about 5,000 degrees celsius. But... lots of the other stars are even bigger and even hotter! So why does our sun look bigger and feels hotter than the other stars?

To fully understand this, students have been trying to wrap their heads around the huge distances in space, and trying to build an understanding of how close the Sun is compared to the other nearest stars. Student's learned that the sun is 8 light minutes away from Earth, but the nearest other star, Proxima Centauri is 4.2 light years away.

All the other stars are even further away than that. So compared to the other stars, the sun is basically right next to us.

But .. how can the sun be so close to us when Google says it is 93 million miles away? How can the sun be so far away, yet so close? Building a conceptual understanding of the astronomical distances involved in space can be challenging for anyone. To help better understand, students built scale models of the nearest five stars to Earth using inches or cm to represent light years.

News from Music (Mrs. Goldman)

We have begun our Drama curriculum in the 5th grade. Grade 5 Drama is designed to educate students about theatre. Students will learn basic acting techniques and theatre terminology. Drama will teach students how to work together as a group, think critically, use their imagination, discover new ideas, and problem solve. Students will learn how to improve their focus, self-confidence, and social skills. Everyone is expected to work to the best of their ability to achieve great success.

Our first Drama unit focuses on team building and improvisation. We have discussed the importance of being a great team member on and off stage and have participated in several trust building activities. In the game, Dune Buggies, we discovered that by building trust, we were able to take healthy risks when improvising.

News from 1D (Mrs. Dunn)

Students in 1D are learning about important Americans in history and discussing how their accomplishments in the past impact our lives and our country today. We have read several books about Martin Luther King, Jr. during read alouds and guided reading groups. After reading the book Martin's Big Words by Doreen Rappaport, student wrote about what the following quotations from Dr. King made them think or feel:

"Everyone can be great."

"Hate cannot drive out hate. Only love can do that."

"Love is the key to the problems of the world."

"You are as good as anyone."

Students' responses showed that they were thinking carefully about the importance of Dr. King's words, trying to understand what our country was like at that time, and thinking about ways to apply Dr. King's words to their own lives. Here are a few of their responses:

When I heard these words, it made me think he was wise. He was scared but he was brave. He changed laws peacefully. He never gave up. He showed people love and kindness. -Milo

When I heard these words, it made me think that if someone does something mean to you, you don't do something mean back. You do something loving.

-Layla

When I heard these words, it made me feel happy and included. I will always be helpful, kind and courageous. MLK, Jr. was a hero and I will be, too. MLK Jr.'s life was hard but he never gave up. And I will not give up either. I will always include other people. And I will always do great stuff, today and every day, just like MLK, Jr.

-Ellie

News from Mathematics Specialist (Mrs. Aaron)

fun! Fluency is Students in grades 2 and 4 practicing fact families and the relationship between operations using the

Salute. In this game two players place an unseen card on their own forehead and a third person tells them the sum of the two addends or the product of the two factors. They all then write equations (addition and subtraction or multiplication and division) they could use to figure out the missing part and solve! This easily adaptable game is fun for practicing all sorts of math relationships!
